SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 3

EASTERN STATES.

New York News

NEW YORK, June 3.—James Gordon Bennett died of old age. His lower limbs were paralyzed for several months and he was fully impressed with the idea that he could not long survive. His estate is said to amount to $10,000,000—the Herald with buildings and real estate connected with it he leaves to his son, and in his will he provides that he is never to sell it, but it must remain in the family. His Fifth Avenue mansion he leaves to his wife, and his Washington Heights property to his daughter Jeannette.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Abram Nelson, a merchant in good standing in Pearl street, was committed in default of $5,000 bail on Saturday, on charge of burglary through the carelessness of the janitor of the warehouse of Phelps, Dodge & Co. Nelson had been in the habit by means of false keys, of opening the safes of that firm and obtaining correspondence in information relative to their business, and using it to his own advantage.

The hearing of the argument in the case of Tweed, Connolly and Fields begins before Judge Hogeboom at Albany to-day.

The Grand Lodge of Free Masons of this State meets here to-morrow. Delegates to be present are from the Grand Lodges of every State and Territory, and from England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany, Hungary, Italy and the British provinces.

The case of Stokes came up before Judge Ingraham this morning on the settlement of the interrogations to be put to Dorman, Benton and McStanley now in Europe.

National Republican Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Specials state that arrivals of delegates and politicians to the Republican National Convention are beginning to be large. It is the general opinion that Grant will be nominated by acclamation and that the Convention will adjourn on Thursday. The contest over the Vice Presidency it is generally thought will be between Colfax and Henry Wilson with chances decidedly in favor of the former. Large numbers of newspaper men are already on the ground. Arrivals of delegates have been very numerous during the night. The Continental Hotel is the headquarters of most delegations. The friends of Colfax count 280 votes for him on first ballot. Morton and M. L. Michell are both mentioned as temporary Chairman.

Rain Storm.

SPRINGFIELD, June 4.—A severe rain storm occurred in central Illinois on Saturday, overflowing water courses and doing considerable damage to property.

Miscellaneous News.

CHICAGO, June 3.—R. B. Howard, brother of Gen. Howard, has written a letter to the Tribune of this city saying that the statements by the San Francisco Chronicle and by Gen. Hooker or at his instance, so far as they imply a want of honesty, courage and prompt obedience to orders at Chancellorsville on the part of Gen. Howard are false. He says when General Howard returns from Arizona and New Mexico via Santa Fe, I hope he will be induced to state facts even if they may be unfriendly to General Hooker on whose reputation, as of that of all his brother officers, Gen. Howard has always manifested a tender and chivalrous regard.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Political.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A special says out of the delegates at large elected to the Baltimore Convention from Pennsylvania eight are in favor of endorsing Greeley. The delegation is led by Congressmen Randall and Wm. A. Walker. The delegates are uninstructed and not directed to vote as a unit.

Ex President Johnson has arrived here to testify in the case before the House Military Committee relative to the missing report of the Buell Military Commission.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 3.—The Irish National Band, numbering forty musicians, sailed for the Boston jubilee this week.

VIENNA, June 3.—Frederick Gerstaecker, the celebrated German traveler, is dead, aged 57 years.

FRANKFORT, June 3.—A collision occurred between two passenger trains between Basle and Mayence to-day. Nine persons were killed and a number injured.

LONDON, June 4.—Eugenie goes soon on a visit to Spain.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

International Cricket Match.

VICTORIA, June 3.—The second of the series of matches to come off between the California and our own clubs, took place yesterday on the Colwood grounds before a considerable number of spectators. The grounds were hardly in order for playing, but were somewhat improved before commencing the game. The playing was on the whole, superior to that which took place on Beacon Hill. In fact there was a good deal more cricketing shown than in the first game. Home on the Victoria side made the highest score, viz: 50. On the side of the California Club Reid scored 16 in the second inning; Marshall, on the same side made 14. L. O. Peel not out, 25. Reed not out 15. The California Club went in first scoring 65 on the first inning. The Victoria Club followed with 94. About four o'clock the California Club commenced their second inning, and at the close of the play stood 61 for five wickets. The game will be finished on Beacon Hill Wednesday, commencing at 12 noon. The cricketers returned to town last evening about 9 o'clock, singing English and American airs, and with the Stars and Stripes borne on top of the omnibus.

Weather very warm.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The first American flag raised in California after American occupation was presented to the Society of California Pioneers by Major Cooper last night.

The Mechanic Institute annual election resulted in the choice of A. S. Hallidie, President, and the entire regular ticket.

The Irish Nationalists Convention met last evening, six regular Societies being represented. It was decided not to elect permanent officers and the Convention adjourned to the first Monday in July.

Weather cloudy and warm; wind south, with light showers.

Arrived—steamer Senator from San Luis Obispo.

The failure of the Board of Supervisors to make any provision for the celebration of the Fourth of July, causes general disappointment. It is feared that the day will be permitted to pass without the usual patriotic demonstration.

Circular Letter

IN MATTER OF SOLDIERS' HOMES RAIDS

SIR: In reply to your inquiry respecting the recent law for the benefit of soldiers and sailors, General Law No. 20, entitled "An Act to enable honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, their widows and orphan children, to acquire homesteads on the public lands of the United States," you are informed that on account of the diversity of opinion relative to the construction of the law referred to and the difficulty encountered in framing instructions and regulations to properly carry the Act into effect, I have been induced to refer the whole matter to Congress for such constructive legislation as will enable this office to administer the law so as to carry out the intention of its makers.

When such legislative action is taken instructions will be promptly prepared and printed for general distribution.

Very respectfully your obedient servant,
WILLIS DRUMMOND
Commissioner

England has borrowed the idea of the American palace cars, and is elated thereat.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

The San Diego Union says there are among the Indians at San Ysabel three men and four squaws who have a distinct remembrance of the arrival of the founders of the Mission in 1769. These ancient inhabitants range from 120 to 130 years of age. Two of the men helped to make the adobes of which the building was constructed.

Grief has had a very remarkable effect on a widow out in Elmwood, Ill. Her husband died three years ago, and in all that time she has not spoken a word to any living being. There be wicked mortals who would rejoice at such an effect of affliction on some of their female connections, but it must be a terrible sacrifice to the unhappy sufferers.

The Bangor Whig says Abraham Sibley, of Grand Falls Plantation, Me., who is 77 years of age, and the father of 20 children, 12 of whom are now living at home, was in Bangor recently trying to obtain a pension, having lost three sons in the war. He thinks the human race is deteriorating, as a man now-a-days feels proud if he can be the father of two or three children.

Underground distillation is a feature of Kentucky industry occasionally developed by the internal revenue officials. A Deputy Marshal brought into Louisville, on the 12th instant, two moonshiners who were captured in a still, 400 yards under ground. Their cavern had two openings—one on the side of a hill for ingress and egress and the other leading perpendicularly to the works, serving for the collection of the water required.

Mount Vesuvius, it is said, has been so much distorted by the internal convulsions from which it has lately suffered that it would hardly be recognized by its most intimate friends. Its familiar outlines have been changed, new gorges, precipices and protuberances appear all over its surface. Should it be so severely put to its purgation again, the multifarious guide books, descriptions, paintings, photographs, etc., of the old volcano, will all have to be reconstructed.

About eighteen months since, the wife of a rather prominent citizen of Wayne county, died and was buried without a funeral sermon having been preached over her remains. Voss married again, and last week his second wife died, and on Sunday she was buried from the Methodist church of Centerville. The pastor, whether by instruction or otherwise, seized the opportunity to preach the funeral services of both wives, and with the dead body of the second one lying before him, he spoke of the first wife before referring to the other.

It seems that the oyster beds near Elizabethport continue to yield old Spanish dollars and there is danger that the fishermen will neglect their legitimate calling to probe for the scattered treasures of Captain Kidd. An old coin collector has given his opinion that the dollars thus far gathered were made in Peru prior to 1692, which strengthens the faith of the oystermen that they are on the track of the old pirate's strong box. We rejoice that they have struck the trail at this season when a dearth of oysters will be no great misfortune.

There are many important questions to be discussed and settled in the South, and the newspapers will necessarily have a large part in the work, but it seems to us that some of the editors have adopted a wrong plan for carrying on their intellectual contests. Two Georgia editors have made their rivalry and antagonism a personal matter, and meeting in a depot at Macon the other day, they attempted to settle all disputed points by a fight. One of them was mortally wounded, but we fear that no great principle has been established thereby. These men may mean all right, but they are mistaken as to the best modes of arguing and settling great questions.

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS

One county in California has 150,000 acres of wheat.

Nine persons were killed at a recent Parliamentary election in Hungary.

The police espionage of Paris is the greatest bore that foreigners encounter in that peculiar city.

Europe is supposed to contain 300,000,000 people. One hundred years ago the estimate was but 60,000,000.

The question of compulsory education is again the subject of debate in the various provincial assemblies in France.

A drunken woman at East Saginaw, Michigan, the other day, ran her head through a pane of glass and cut her nose clean off.

The people of Wyoming don't know whether to call their female judges a Justicess of the Peace or a Justice of the Peaces.

Any number of books have been published in Germany founded on the Franco Prussian war, and now a crop of plays has commenced.

The famous Metairie race course, near New Orleans has been bought for the purpose of turning it into a cemetery, at a cost of $120,000.

Father Cleveland is so ill in Boston that his friends fear he will not live to complete his hundredth year, which expires on the 21st of next month.

Alexander H. Stephens is writing columns to disprove the Louisville Courier Journal's assertion that his utterances are nothing but absurd gabble.

James McIlrew, of Warsaw, Indiana, drank nine glasses of whisky to get his courage up to have some teeth extracted, and expired soon after from the effects.

The Columbus (Ohio) State Journal holds the opinion that Mr. Greeley has more capacity for getting himself into a minority than any other man in this country.

Southerners are circulating a fac simile of the bail bond of Jeff. Davis "late President of the Confederate States," with the signatures including Horace Greeley's.

A gentleman from Fort Wayne, Ind., lately received a magazine from a prominent London publishing house addressed "Fort Wayne, Philadelphia, United States."

The Rhode Island Legislature voted to John O'Neil $200 as some compensation for eight years' imprisonment for a crime which it was lately proved he never committed.

The site on which the building of the Vienna Exhibition of 1873 will be erected is six times larger than that on which the exhibition palace in Paris was constructed in 1867.

Dr. J. A. Clopton of Georgia has invented a parlor still. It can be placed on a mantlepiece and will run from 5 to 10 gallons of brandy a day. Any lady can use the still.

The Cincinnati Enquirer mournfully says that Mr. Pendleton received one of its reporters with closed doors and declined to talk. And this puts down as his position at the present time.

Announcement is made in the London papers of the death of the Marquis of Camden, which took place at Eaton square in consequence of an apoplectic fit. His lordship was only thirty two years of age.

A destructive fire which raged over Hawks' Mountain, New York, the other day, came within six feet of the powder house of the Midland Tunnel contractors, where 700 barrels of blasting powder were stored.

Mr. Bonner's colt, Startle, recently trotted half a mile at Fleetwood Park in the wonderful time of 1:04¾ minutes. This is the fastest time ever achieved by any horse in harness, with the exception of Dexter, who once performed a similar feat.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—In the Senate the bill granting the right of way to the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad was referred to the committee on conference.

The Senate bill to pay Elbridge Gerry of Colorado for the loss of stock by the Sioux Indians was amended, increasing the amount to $13,200 and passed.

Senator Nye called up several bills relating to the Territories, which were passed.

Senator Chandler gave notice that he would at an early day attempt to vindicate his personal friend, Edwin M. Stanton, from aspersions cast upon him.

Senator Carpenter addressed the Senate in reply to Senator Schurz's criticisms upon the report of the committee on the sale of arms. He reviewed the history of the resolution for the investigation, and declared that the object was not to have a full and fair investigation of the arms sales, but to make deliberate, premeditated and malicious assault upon the administration, regardless of truth or justice in this connection. Senator Carpenter defended the administration from the aspersions cast upon it by Senators Schurz and Sumner in the recent debate, and said that it was not by the blunders of honest soldiers that the liberties of the nation could be overthrown, but by plotting, artful intriguing rascals who have gained the public ear. He made a long argument in reply to Schurz in defence of the report of the arms committee.

Senator Logan next addressed the Senate in reply to Sumner's speech. He again and again denounced Sumner's attack on the President as slanderous and malignant, and without foundation. Referring to Sumner's argument on military men being unfit for duty as statesmen, he reviewed Sumner's achievements as a statesman and declared that the State books have fewer measures originally by him than by any other man claiming to be a statesman. His greatness consisted in high sounding phrases, long drawn sentences, quotations from old books and history, and his achievements were mere glittering generalities, while the "Citizen of Galena" has written his history in blood and it would be read longer by men. The charge of meddling our foreign relations was unfounded. If they were meddled with England, Sumner was primarily responsible. The statement that Secretary Stanton had told him Grant could not govern this country, was false and he could prove it so. Sumner had further said when he asked Stanton why he spoke in favor of Grant while holding this opinion, Stanton replied that he had not mentioned his name in speeches. General Logan proved this to be false by reading from various speeches of Stanton, in which he referred to Grant in a complimentary manner.

Tariff Question.

Conference Committee on the Tariff Tax bill agreed on a resolution in which the tax on whisky was placed at seventy cents, covering everything but ten cents for rectifying on the barrel. A uniform tax is fixed on tobacco at twenty cents.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, June 3.—In the House of Commons to-day, Gladstone expressed his inability to account for the postponement of the adjournment of the U. S. Senate, and offered to redeem his promise and make a definite explanation in regard to negotiations with the United States. He assured the members that the supplemental article did not leave the subject of indirect claims in the present or future, open for any misunderstanding, and in this view, the American Minister, Schenck, coincided.

Mr. Disraeli reminded the Premier of his omission to state whether the arbitration is to proceed on the 15th inst.

Mr. Gladstone replied, that to this date it had been kept constantly in view in negotiations, and asked if he had any reason to think that the U. S. Government was inclined to withdraw from Secretary Fish's position, that concession from England must precede any settlement. Mr. Gladstone replied that the understanding was for the United States to make no claim for indirect damages at Geneva.

Mr. Osborne considered that the explanations amounted to nothing to the House, and that the country was unsatisfied and hoped a distinct declaration would be extorted from the Government that unless the indirect claims were fully, fairly and immediately withdrawn, England would refuse to proceed with the arbitration. [Cheers.]

Mr. Burgh gave notice that he would move for an address to the Queen for the withdrawal of Great Britain from the arbitration unless indirect claims were abandoned.

Mr. Ottaway asked if any new engagement with the United States had been made or accepted by the Government and said he had feared the danger of such engagements.

Mr. Gregory asked if the Government had any assurance from Minister Schenck as to the understanding on the Supplemental Article.

The Premier answered Gregory's question in the negative, adding that members seemed to think a price had saved the United States withdrawing the claims. He explained that the word "consideration" as used in the Supplemental Article meant a covenant between the two nations in the future, and was reciprocal. He declined to discuss the question of pressing the withdrawal of the indirect claims pending the negotiations.

Earl Russell said the time had come when plain words were desirable, and gave notice that he would to-morrow press his motion for an address to the Queen for the withdrawal from the arbitration.

During the evening, the Marquis Herford inquired if it was true that the Band of Grenadiers has been ordered to attend the Boston Jubilee.

Lord "Scene" replied "yes," with the sanction of the Queen and Commander-in-Chief.

The Duke of Richmond declared that more irregular proceedings never had been sanctioned.

Granville declared it was proper to show the good will of the country toward the United States while the treaty is hanging in the balance. England only emulated Russia, Austria, Prussia and other Powers in similar acts of courtesy.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Certificate of increase capital stock of the Imperial Silver Mining Company from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 was filed to-day.

The Arctic Mining Co., Ely District, Nevada, capital $3,000,000, was incorporated to-day.

Business of all kinds seems temporarily paralyzed by the smash up in stocks. The Board to-day resembled a well regulated funeral in its solemn, quiet and melancholy decorum.

The grand Convocation of the Order of Druids is in session to-day.

Still warm and cloudy. Barometer falling, indicating more rain.

As the French Consul, M. De Breuil, was passing along Kearney street this noon, Etienne Guignaut, an insane man, suddenly attacked him with a slung shot, striking him savagely on the head, inflicting a severe wound. He was instantly secured and locked up, and will be examined before the Commissioner of Lunacy. He was also armed with a sharp knife and declared that he meant to kill him outright. He said he had not punished the Germans for plundering France, and he meant to get justice on the invaders or have blood. He is unquestionably insane.

A man named McVey was found dying at the Alta Lodging House on Sacramento street, this morning. It is supposed that he took poison. He is now dead. He was a stranger, aged about 50 years.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—A stranger who gave his name as McVey, suicided with poison at his lodgings on Sacramento street to-day. He has not yet been recognized.

Carrie Mortimer, wife of the notorious desperado and burglar, Mortimer, now under arrest for attempting to rob a man in the circus, has been identified as the woman who begged fifty cents of C. A. Whig, as she was going home late at night, and embraced the opportunity to embrace him in gratitude and carry off his gold watch and chain. She has been arrested.

A boat with four men swamped off the Ocean House, on Sunday. All were drowned. It is not known where the boat was from or who the men were.

Mayor Alvord in default of action by the Board of Supervisors has called a meeting, to make arrangements to celebrate the Fourth of July, at the Supervisors's room at 2 P. M. to-morrow.

The attempt of Etienne Gugnoult to assassinate the French Consul on Kearny street to-day, caused a temporary excitement, but it subsided as soon as it was ascertained that M. Debreul only received a severe blow in the head from a slung shot and was not dangerously hurt, and that his assailant was merely a lunatic and the victim of political excitement.

Only two mining companies have been incorporated so far this week, viz: Aztec, Coely district, three millions, and Insurance Mining Company, Storey county, Nevada, three millions.

Stocks reacted strongly this evening, closing higher and being firmer after the Board. The general feeling to-night is quite sound and hopeful. Sales at the morning Board only aggregated 8,748 shares and at the afternoon they fell off to 3,722, the pressure on the market by persons compelled to realize, being evidently nearly over.

Weather still warm and cloudy, wind south, and occasional slight showers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Jacket, which sold down to $65 this morning, reached $116 on the street after the Board this evening.

Twenty three groves of the Order of Druids are represented in the Grand Grove of California, now in session in this city.

There were 32 suicides and 15 unsuccessful attempts at suicide in this city during the year ending June 2d.

The 23d anniversary of the arrival of the old steamer Panama from New York, is being celebrated this evening by the survivors by the usual banquet. There is an unusually large attendance.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, June 4.—A. J. McPike, member of the Democratic Committee, reports all members present at the meeting yesterday in favor of a Greeley ticket.

Rainy all day, with thunder and lightning.

LOS ANGELES, June 4.—The new Board of Directors of the Los Angeles and San Pedro Railroad, elected B. D. Wilson, President, Gen. Banning, Vice President, J. N. Hellman, Treasurer, and Jos. H. Lander, Secretary.

The trial of the Chinese companies against the city for damages by the riot, is now progressing in the District Court.

Light shower of rain last night.

STOCKTON, June 4.—Andrew Phillips sustained a fracture of the right arm by being caught in a threshing machine.

STOCKTON, June 3.—A slight shower of rain fell this morning, accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning. A few minutes after 4 o'clock this afternoon the new tank belonging to the Stockton Water Works, on Hunter street, burst, scattering water in all directions. A three story building on which the tank was placed, was badly damaged. The total loss will not fall short of $4,000. Fortunately no person was in the neighborhood at the time of the accident.

ARIZONA.

More Indian Troubles.

SAN DIEGO, June 4.—Advices from Tucson are to May 27th.

About thirty Indians attacked Camp Crittenden on the 21st ult. They captured all the stock after hard fighting of two hours. All the stock on [illegible] one ox and two horses were recaptured the next day.

The Indians killed Cameron [illegible] four miles below [illegible].

All the farmers in Sonoita Valley have left, abandoning large and most [illegible] now ready for harvest.

On the 23d ult. thirty Apaches [illegible] Santa Cruz Valley with two horses belonging to Joe King.

The whole of southern Arizona now seems overrun with Apaches, and unless [illegible] is soon given, nearly all the settlements south of Tucson will have to be abandoned or the people murdered.

General Howard had concluded a treaty with the Indians at Camp Grant on the 22d ult. If properly managed on the reservation, and the Indians off pursued with vigor, they may hope for peace.

NEVADA.

HUMBOLDT, June 4.—About one hundred and fifty miners, employed by the [illegible] Hill companies, struck this morning for four dollars per day. The demand having been refused the men formed in line and marched to [illegible] and then quietly dispersed. Nearly all the mines in this vicinity are closed in consequence of the strike.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JUNE 5 1872

The Lesson of It

The Democratic party in the State is utterly broken down Not a shadow of doubt that the Republicans have swept the State and carried a large majority of the Legislature remains The victory is more sweeping than we had supposed possible They who had imagined that the [illegible] party would again succeed, had no conception of the temper of the people with respect to the conduct of that party since it has been in power in this State That party has been carried down by the weight of its own misdeeds Its legislation has proven to be a millstone around its neck No party could sustain such a load

We think there is a Republican majority in the Senate and are sure there is a large Republican majority in the House Republicans therefore will shape the legislation of the next session The Governor will be against us but in repealing some of the more obnoxious measures of the last session he may be prudent enough to co-operate with the majority If he do not a majority sufficient to carry repealing acts over the veto may be obtained.

This victory means no more plundering legislation It means that there shall be prudent and careful management of State affairs, and no more jobs for rings to make money out of at the expense of public interests. The defeat of the Democratic party has aspects which both parties would do well to study If the Republican party should ever go as deep into jobs for private benefit at the sacrifice of public interests as the Democratic party has done, it would be beaten in turn, and would deserve its fate The lesson is one which is good to heed

Summer Recreation

The season for summer travel and recreation is at hand, and will be fully availed of by all classes It is good for the country that our business and professional men are yearly devoting more time to summer recreations The opportunities for accumulating wealth are so numerous and so tempting that men find it difficult to abandon the fascinating pursuit But the alarming increase of paralysis and other nervous attacks, is a warning, not to be disregarded that death lurks in this alluring path There has been too much straining of the mind to its finest tension, too much concentration of thought too rigid and relentless a discipline of the mental powers Nature gives warning that this process of intellectual refining must be relaxed Every year our pleasure season opens earlier and continues later Our go-ahead population begin to discover that life has some other purpose than a mere endless feverish strike for position or wealth Rational enjoyment, and a more careful attention to the culture of the social amenities and pleasures, are found to merit a larger share of one's life So year by year a larger proportion of our population desert the offices and counting rooms and go off into rural haunts, in the woods, up the mountains, or by the [illegible] side. Many have choice retreats of their own, found out in the course of rural wanderings, or whose charms have been revealed to them by friends. Some of these haunts are enchantingly lovely and delightful spots The very sight of nature in her most genial mood, and most beautiful aspect, is refreshing and invigorating to the exhausted mind worker from the city And the world is the gainer for these play spells There is deep philosophy in the old adage that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" With the renewed vigor and health which these summer recreations impart, men are enabled to accomplish both more and better work. We therefore counsel all our [illegible] who are engaged in mental sedentary employments, to spare a week or so from their duties this summer, to take a little health and pleasure trip. We are satisfied that they will be the gainers in a prolonged [illegible] of life, and the community in reaping better results from their labors

Jefferson's Principles Again.

In the Oregon Herald this piece of information is presented

> It is a singular feature of our political history that whenever our governmental affairs have got into a tangle, that confusion has resulted as a consequence of going away from those principles of administration and government which Mr. Jefferson and his compatriots adopted

This would indeed be "singular" if it were true, But inasmuch as the reverse of it is true, there is nothing singular about it Under President Buchanan the Government drifted into Jefferson's "principles" as laid down in the resolutions of '98 The consequence was secession and civil war The rebels did not "go away" from Jefferson's principles, but accepted them and their results. No other justification for secession was pretended than that found in Jefferson's principles. Jefferson was quoted by the rebels as their sole authority and guide He had laid down "principles of administration and government," and they followed them A Democratic President, acting in accordance with Jefferson's principles, could not stop the proceeding The consequence was that governmental affairs got into confusion at once The country has not been back to those "principles" since, and never will be again

There is promised to be much political humor developed during the Presidential campaign, Mr Greeley, whether witty or not himself, undoubtedly being the occasion of much wit in others His historic white coat and Gratz Brown's red hair have suggested to the Missouri Democrat the phrase, "The Woodpecker Ticket" The Muses too, are likely to be called on for a large share of inspiration, and songs and poetry threaten to be plentiful We hope most of it will be better than this, which an Illinois paper furnishes for the edification of Governor Palmer and Senator Trumbull of that State

"For when I think of what I am
And what I used to was,
I think I throwed myself away
Without sufficient cause

When the Herald declares that it said nothing in malice during the recent canvass we find it difficult to give it credit for sincerity Certainly for vituperation it has rarely been equalled It adds, Perhaps we have sometimes erred It is clear that the people think so

Greeley's letter of acceptance is much eulogized by the Herald Our neighbor thinks Greeley to be about right but doesn't promise to support him He is chary of promises since he promised that his party would carry Oregon and learned the result

To-day (Wednesday) the Philadelphia Convention will assemble The greeting for Oregon will be about the right thing A State that went against Grant in 1868 now pledges him her electoral vote

Appeal to White Men

There is nothing which so well illustrates the eternal principles of the Democracy to take any position for the sake of catching votes as the change which has come upon them as to their feelings toward the colored voters The subjoined poem and the Herald's comments which were published in that paper about four years ago, are commended to the attention of the few colored voters in this city [illegible] Democratic [illegible] Herald

The following lines are from the pen of a [illegible] who sees the situation and evidently foresees the taint of the ballot box Washington Territory where negro suffrage has been imposed upon the people contrary to their wishes and desires It is good for the people of Oregon to read such things and reflect that the same thing would be done in Oregon by the Radical party if it had the power

[illegible] of America
[illegible] we hear you say
Shall negroes [illegible]
[illegible] mighty nation away

Chorus—No Democrats will never yield
The [illegible] to colored men
We'll rule or die upon the field
Ere he shall [illegible]

And there's the good old natrimonium
Left in our special care—
Shall we let vile usurpers
That sacred [illegible] tear
No Democrats will never yield etc

And there are [illegible] brothers of the South
(Admitting that they've erred)
Must they be put below the blacks
And dark as now preferred
No Democrats will never yield etc

And patriotic foreigners—
White men of sense and worth—
Must they be crowded from the polls
By all the scum of earth?
No Democrats will never yield etc

Shall we let Congress step by step
Take all our rights away
And quietly submit to all
That rogues may do or say
No Democrats will never yield etc

Shall thieves and villains [illegible] and thrive
And never hear it thunder
And will this growing nation stand
Their wholesale party plunder
No Democrats will never yield, etc

By ballot just one chance is left
For you to set things right
Miss that and all your friends are gone
Or else you'll have to fight
No Democrats will never yield etc

And men who boast of bravery
Afraid to pull a trigger—
When cowards steal their sacred rights
And give them to the nigger!
No Democrats will never yield etc

Have white men lost their manly pride?
Has Independence fled
Must Justice weep o'er Freedom's grave
Are freemen's sons all dead
No Democrats will never yield etc

Then up and aid our righteous cause
Your dying country save
Don't let a darkey fill your place
And you a coward's grave
No Democrats will never yield etc

Now compare the above with the following from the same paper on Sunday last in which it speaks of the same men but in quite different language

> One or two white men who claim that they control the colored vote are attempting to sell out our colored friends to the monopoly faction Part of the money has been paid and the balance is to be forthcoming after the election Our colored friends should see to it and allow no man to sell them out like so many sheep

Election Notes

In Clackamas Republicans elect the three Representatives The Senator is in doubt The majority on the Representatives is thirty seven Democrats elect the Clerk and Sheriff The vote on Congressman is a tie

In Polk Republicans have certainly two Representatives and probably all three and the Senator besides

In Jackson the election of two Republican Representatives is beyond doubt

In Marion the lowest majority for Legislature (Republican ticket) is ninety five Wilson's majority for Congress is 395 J J Murphy is beaten for Clerk by 330

In Umatilla the Democratic majority for Congressman is reported to be 160 which is a reduction of 100 as compared with the last election

One of the causes contributing to the overthrow of the Democratic party in this State is found in the opposition of that party to the State's material interests to methods for securing railway development and to the great enterprises now in progress, or projected here The people who want these enterprises to go forward do not like to see them opposed, and therefore they cannot sustain the Democratic party

Governor Grover has been aspiring to a seat in the United States Senate, and report has it that he nearly bankrupted himself in his endeavor to carry the State But he has now decided not to be a candidate longer He doesn't want it at all

Wilson's majority in this county will vary but very few votes from 930 His majority in the State can hardly fall below 800

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 5, 1872

CITY.

Book Depository.—The General Conference of the M E Church, at its present session in Brooklyn, N Y in response to a petition from several of our prominent citizens, which was presented by the Delegates from Oregon [illegible] by recommended the erection of a Book Depository in this city. The General Conference to secure the erection of such building has proposed to appropriate the sum of $4 000 with the building. It is estimated that the entire cost of the building will be $8 000. This will leave the sum of $4 000 to be raised in this city in subscription. To secure the ground the General Conference proposes to donate $5 000 out of the General Book Concern Fund with which to purchase three lots at the corner of Third and D streets, that can be bought for that sum. After the building has been completed the necessary stock of books will be furnished by an additional appropriation from the General Conference making a total outlay of about $30 000. A resident agent will be appointed to take charge of the branch Depository.

St Helens Mill Co.—J C Ladd having disposed of his controlling interest in St Helens Mill Company to J Dart, W R Mathews W Pickering, and D Lynch a special meeting of the stockholders of the company was held at St Helens on Tuesday the 4th inst for the purpose of electing Directors and officers for the vacancies caused by the transfer. The following persons were elected: Directors—J Dart W Pickering, W R Mathews, D Lynch. Officers—J Dart, President and Treasurer W Pickering Secretary, D Lynch, Superintendent, W R Mathews, Agent at Portland. The principal office of the company will hereafter be held at this city.

Accident.—A man named T O Hutchinson, employed at the sash and door factory of John P Walker, met with a severe accident yesterday. A pistol had been left by some one on a table in the building. Several persons had examined the pistol, among whom was Mr Hutchinson. He was turning the pistol over rather carelessly in his hands, when the ball was discharged. It passed through the fleshy portion of his left hand, where it joins the wrist, and came out just below the elbow. The wound is very painful, but not considered at all dangerous. The wound was dressed by Dr Chapman.

Unsuccessful.—The efforts thus far made to recover the body of Peter Roberts has failed. A number of parties were engaged most of the day yesterday in dragging the river. The plan to raise the body by exploding powder under the water also failed. After sinking the cans of powder it was found impossible to communicate the fire to them through the fuse. The fire would burn but a few feet below the surface of the water and then go out. It was repeatedly tried with the same success. Where the body is supposed to be the water is nearly seventy feet deep. Efforts will be renewed again to-day.

Make an Appropriation.—One short month from yesterday, and the National Anniversary will be upon us. As yet, not the first steps have been taken toward celebrating the Fourth. This is excusable on account of the late election. Now that it is over, let all past political differences be forgotten, and all unite in observing that day in a proper manner, and with appropriate demonstrations. The City Council will meet to night. We hope that an appropriation will be made. The time is brief. Let the subject be constantly agitated until decisive action is taken.

What's Next.—Portland has Dolly Varden saloons, dresses, and politics. The latest thing in that line is a genuine Dolly Varden watch, which one of the city jewelers has recently received. It is a double faced timepiece. On one side the regular style of hours and minutes are kept, while on the other are days of the week and date of the month. The watch is wound by turning the body backward and forward on the stem. The hands are regulated by a spring in the stem also. It is the only one of the pattern ever made.

Second Concert.—Miss Mehlig gave her second concert at the Masonic Hall last evening to a crowded house. A splendid programme was rendered. It was highly appreciated by the audience, and met with loud and frequent applause. A number of pieces were heartily encored. Miss Mehlig was assisted by Miss DuBois, Messrs De Prans, Neufeld, Wyatt, Richter, Schuyler and [illegible]. The last Concert will be given on Friday [illegible].

[illegible]—The Herald says "Persons in [illegible] for breaking their legs can be [illegible] on First street, between Pine and [illegible], where there is a hole in the sidewalk which [illegible] to have been provided for that express purpose." We have observed the same hole. There are numbers of other places where new lumber and carpenters' tools would bring about a much needed improvement, and increase public safety.

Not People.—The Herald says that in 1890 when the State election is held, it is safe to presume that the railroad will then be finished, and the railroad hands having left for other regions the people will have an opportunity of taking some part in the election. We had always labored under an erroneous impression that in the supposition that "railroad hands were people," like other beings.

Japs Returning.—After a short visit to Walla Walla and the Dalles, Marshall & Co's celebrated Japanese troupe returned to Vancouver yesterday, at which place they gave a performance last evening. The troupe will reach this city to day. No performance will be given here, but the troupe will start at once overland for California, exhibiting at the various towns along the route.

Splendid Strawberries.—Mr La Due, of Cowlitz, has laid us under sincere obligations for a box of the largest and most luscious strawberries—the first which we have tasted of this season. We have not seen as fine specimens of this berry in the markets this year. They can be found at the store of Henry Martin No 111 First street.

Silent.—Now that the all absorbing question of the election is over, let the silence which has reigned over the subject of the celebration of the Fourth of July for several weeks past, now be broken, and let some action be taken looking to wards securing that object, and that right speedily.

Offer Accepted.—Philip Phillips the celebrated revival singer, who paid Portland a visit last year, has accepted an offer of five thousand dollars per year from the Central Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, to lead in the singing of that church, and also the Sunday School.

Passengers.—The steamer Columbia sailed yesterday from San Francisco for Sitka via Portland. She brings the following passengers: Geo Hart, G W Dswall wife and child F McKeller Miss S Wilson, C Easter and wife J W Tylor, A W Smith, J Kelly, J H Watson.

Ladies Fair.—The ladies fair for the benefit of the First A. M E Zion Church opened last evening in Wilson's new store Third street between Alder and Morrison. The fair will close on the 11th inst with a grand festival and supper. Tickets for the season, $1.

Meeting.—There will be a meeting held this evening of the Directors of the Good Templars Hall Association, to determine whether the proposed new hall building will be commenced at once or not. A full attendance is desirable.

Wells Rising.—Owing to the present high stage of water in the Wallamet many of the wells on the back streets have risen to a level with the river. The water in some instances is scarcely fit to drink on account of being so muddy.

Under Advisement.—The motion for a new trial of M S Bart, was argued before Judge Deady in the U S District Court yesterday morning. Decision was reserved and the matter taken under advisement.

One Case.—The County Court convened yesterday morning. There was only one case decided, that of J J and E M Jarvis vs F M Warren. Judgment by default against defendant for $161 89.

Discharged.—Mr N Tibbotts was examined before Justice Snyder yesterday afternoon on the charge of having assaulted George E Prescott with a dangerous weapon. He was discharged from custody.

Arrived.—The steamer Ajax arrived here last evening from San Francisco. She brought a full freight and 134 passengers.

Travel overland between California and this state is constantly increasing.

It always pays to advertise in papers of large circulation and general influence.

To make it comfortable—a street sprinkler to lay the dust, and a stiff San Francisco zephyr.

Situations wanted—for 72 special policemen whose term of office expired on Monday evening.

A China woman has made an appearance on the street with a Dolly Varden. It's the latest novelty.

House cleaning season having begun gentlemen with families are preparing to take up quarters in wood sheds.

"Consequential damages" are what breachers of promise are henceforth to be styled in fashionable circles.

Miss Mehlig will give a concert in Salem on next Monday evening, the required sum having been subscribed.

A locket or seal the size of a frying pan, suspended from the watch chain, is the latest novelty among snobs.

Joaquin Miller is going to bring out a campaign song of forty verses, dedicated to "our trusted leader Grant."

The Wallamet rose between nine o'clock yesterday morning and five o'clock in the evening, one foot and a half.

An exchange says there was once an old lady who kissed a cow. There are lots of young ladies round here who kiss calves.

The old powder house standing on the eastern bank of the river, opposite the foot of Stark Street, is about four feet under water.

Several persons, from the variegated hue of their countenances, appear to have been vigorously "anned with a boot" on Monday.

Lately, the manner in which they put a deadly attack against the life of an individual is "As sault with intent to become insane."

The present warm weather has caused all nature to put on her most unwrinkled front and blossom as the rose—old toper's noses included.

Mrs. Abby Sage Richardson was engaged to give a public reading at Omaha, Thursday evening. She is on her way to California.

The railroad is progressing towards the California line as rapidly as possible. It is thought that cars will be running to Oakland within a month.

An exchange dishes up to its readers "about town," under the outlandish heading "Local Squiblets." It's a stunning name, and ought to draw well.

Special Deputy Sheriffs for election day report that they had great difficulty in keeping the special policemen quiet about the polls, but succeeded admirably.

On election days, our streets generally present a paradoxical spectacle—"tight" men lying around loose—but we are proud to note that last Monday was an exception.

We have recently heard of a youth who contemplated self destruction, because he caught his sweet heart "swimming in tears," without having on her bathing costume.

Since the election, the Dolly Varden candidates are saying, "Let us bray," and engaged in singing, "The Heart is Bowed Down," and other appropriate and pathetic lays.

The Fourth of July is coming. We hope the Dolly Varden Greeleyites will not make an attempt to capture the military companies which are intending to parade on that day.

It is a bad stroke of policy to attempt to play with type, for they generally make a joke quite serious. A wise man is sometimes made to say things lowering even to the dignity of a donky.

Business which for the past few weeks has been almost entirely absorbed and diverted, on account of the excitement consequent on the election, will, it is hoped, now flow uninterruptedly along in its accustomed channels.

The champion kite flying of the season was done yesterday morning. A couple of urchins let off nearly half a mile of string, which a gust of wind broke and carried the aerial plaything beyond the city limits.

Those muddy rivulets which once "murmured so meekly" along our streets for want of a more perfect system of sewerage, have now gone where the tendrils of the woodbine is said to gracefully twine. Old Sol's rays have drank the last vestage of dew and the pedestrians clamor for sprinklers and spiced beverages in theirs.

Information.—When one purchases an article it invariably pays to spend time and take a little trouble to [illegible] the best place to buy. It is both an expensive and [illegible] the most annoying practice to buy at the first place [illegible]. But the reader can save much trouble perhaps when he is informed that Jos Kohn & Co [illegible] street sell no Clothing or Furnishing Goods that are not what they represent them to be. Therefore spare a few minutes at this house and receive full satisfaction.

Branching Out.—Persons living in the southern end of the city have certainly observed an [illegible] First street [illegible] Turnbull and Taylor [illegible] by [illegible] Grim and Pretty who [illegible] the establishment where at all hours fully [illegible] on his particular line can be found. At the [illegible] stand—Washington street, between First and Second—the new supply of Fish Oysters and Poultry [illegible] at any time. Orders left at either place will be promptly filled.

Take my [illegible] step into that [illegible] known Clothing house of J O Neil & Co and leave your order for a suit of summer clothing and depend upon it entire satisfaction will be given. While there examine their [illegible]. Their stock of furnishing goods [illegible] prices are so low that no person need [illegible] about calling elsewhere for better bargains. Don't pass 15 First street when you have occasion to buy anything in their line. O Neil & Co will not be undersold by any house in town.

A Perfect Fit.—At the emporium of fashion of Fishel & Roberts a cutter from New York City has arrived and is prepared to measure those [illegible] fitting themselves in the latest style. As this firm has a fine assortment of cloths and one of the best [illegible] that and [illegible] makes a suit complete in every detail. When you conclude to buy clothing or furnishing goods remember the southwest corner of Washington and First streets.

[illegible] Attention.—[illegible]

Hotels, Restaurants and Families desiring the freshest Salmon, Clams and other Fish should remember Caman & Clark's New Market, Front street, between A and B streets, where they keep only the best.

The Pathway to Victory

VIEWS OF HON SCHUYLER COLFAX

In the New York Independent of October 7th 1871 appeared an article by Vice President Colfax not then a candidate for renomination on "The Pathway to Victory" for the Republican party. The views thus presented were sound [illegible] statesmanlike and are so timely at this moment that we reproduce [illegible] in the following extracts.

Thanks to the public enthusiasm [illegible] [illegible] victory for [illegible] is evidently within its grasp in the coming contest. [illegible] dissensions and bickerings among its leading men, and unity should take the place of discord for if a house divided against itself cannot stand a party divided within itself cannot triumph. The millions who hold no position of trust or profit but who labor so earnestly to win success for the cause they love, teach those who are called leaders, by their patriotic example the power and the benefit [illegible] political concord.

To achieve success in 1872 beyond peradventure the Republican banner must be inscribed as in the past with living principles worthy of the organization and its supporters. [illegible] brilliant record the story of what it has done for this country and its people in the brief ten years since it won its first national victory will never grow old. It will illuminate the brightest pages of our annals long after all who assisted in it shall have been gathered to their fathers and will brighten under the eye of posterity as age after age passes away. But it must have a future worthy of its past, which shall prove that it continues to be the party of justice of humanity of progress and advancement and which without any new departure, will show that it can surely be relied on for the correction of all existing abuses, and the perfection and establishment of all needed reforms.

1 Retrenchment. Easy to agree to as a general proposition, it is [illegible] more difficult when they involve [illegible] of appropriations in our own section or our favorite branch of the public service. * * With what retrenchments can safely be made without detriment to the service with no more Alaska to pay for with our pension appropriation doubtless at its maximum, ($31 000 000) with the interest on the national debt reduced by this Administration from $124, 000,000 per year to less than $110 000 000 and with its prospective reduction before 1873 to $100 000,000, the present Congress will doubtless earn and receive the heartiest public approval when they adjourn next summer for having brought down the future national expenses below $270 000,000 per year, perhaps even $10 000,000.

2 Subsidies.—Nothing seems more certain than that while the people have to bear the burdens of taxation caused by their great national debt, they are not willing that their annual appropriation bills should be swelled by subsidies, meritorious as some propositions of this kind may have seemed. And it is equally clear that there is a resistlessly strong public desire that railroad land grants should cease, and that the Republican homestead principle of the reservation of the land for the free use of the actual settler, inaugurated by it on its first advent to power, should be maintained and preserved inviolate.

3 Amnesty. The unconditional public opinion of the country is that the time for general amnesty has arrived. A vast and bulky omnibus bill relieving thousands of individuals by name from their disabilities, fell by its own weight at the last session of Congress though there was not the slightest objection by any one to ninety-nine hundredths of the names it contained. The truest statesmanship and the wisest policy require that the great mass of the Southern people who were really followers and not leaders should be by a general bill, relieved from all constitutional disabilities. If any class should be reserved to have their cases tested by special bills, (such as those who, while still under oath and pay as Congressmen and Cabinet Ministers inaugurated the rebellion and kindled its baleful fires,) they could be specially excepted from the operations of the general statutes. But such classes would be small in number and the exception would not affect the general relief so much desired.

4 The Civil Reform.—The Republican party cannot afford to ignore or condemn that growing sentiment which demands that the incompetent and unworthy should not be appointed to office, no matter what may be their political claims. Their last National Convention at Chicago, pledged the incoming administration to the reformation of the corruption so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson and the enormous increase of revenue under the same laws when administered by honest officers with the prevention of tax evasion by the dishonest attest how vigilance and impartiality in the enforcement of the law have fulfilled this pledge. Among the few defaulters brought to light scarcely any received their appointments from the Administration, and none of them met with protection at its hands or aid in concealing their guilt. But the President has shown his desire for a more comprehensive plan of reform in the civil service to increase its efficiency and elevate its character conferring its honors more entirely on the basis of the highest qualifications and the most undoubted integrity. He cheerfully signed the enactment of a Republican Congress on this subject, and promptly appointed a Board, presided over by its ablest champion, to prepare the details of a practical and constitutional system. With this much desired reform I hope also to see adopted, in time, what I recommended to my constituents ten years ago—the nomination of postmasters by the votes of the people interested believing they can nominate these officers quite as judiciously as those now nominated sheriffs, clerks and treasurers. With such reforms in successful operation I believe the Republican party would be more harmonious and powerful than without them. Cannot any one see that unity in New York when even national success is imperiled by divisions as to patronage would be worth more to this party than all the official appointments in that State?

5 Tariff and Internal Revenue.—The pathway of duty on these subjects was plainly marked out when the last Republican National Convention resolved unanimously that "it is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit and also that [illegible] for the [illegible] of the [illegible] all time [illegible] should be [illegible] for [illegible] redemption and the rate [illegible] reduced [illegible] whenever it can honestly [illegible]. The [illegible] of over one hundred millions [illegible] year has elevated and fortified our national credit and the elasticity of our revenue system has been illustrated by increased receipts year by year, almost to the extent of the great reductions made by the Republican Congresses since the war. But with $[illegible] 000 000 of receipts during 1870 duty [illegible] an [illegible] to the text of the platform on which the people placed the Republicans in power. Beside the annual reduction of one per cent of the principal of the debt to which the national faith is pledged by law and the prompt payment of the interest and all other national expenses the next Congress could safely reduce [illegible] [illegible] having a safe margin to guard against unexpected reverses in the finances. And thus would again be redeemed the pledge to the laborers of the nation [illegible] taxation as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

The tariff laws [illegible] war avowedly to increase the revenue and to offset also the internal taxes then levied in home manufacture. The last Congress [illegible] it from an average of [illegible] per cent to [illegible] per cent [illegible] can now be safely and judiciously [illegible].

[illegible] of life of which the consumers [illegible] as many [illegible] as the rich and [illegible] produced on our soil. The duties on [illegible] like internal taxes on home manufactures, are [illegible] essentially war taxes which should be wisely kept in reserve by the nation for the enormous expenses and great monetary exigencies of war.

In regard to other ameliorations as to the burdens of taxation, details can easily be arranged when the principles are settled on which reductions should be made. Unless Congress should discriminate against American industry, it must be kept in view American wages the highest in the world, and it is to be hoped always to remain so for where labor enjoys the highest wages, and realizes the greatest proportion of value it creates there are the people most prosperous and happy. So also must the fact that iron, wool and [illegible] cotton manufactures are essential to our true [illegible] kept steadily in view. Suicidal indeed would be the law that would blindly strike down these great industries of the nation or compel them, as an alternative to reduce the wages of their employees to the European standard.

With all the darkening of counsel on the tariff question the wisest reform and the truest [illegible] of legislation in my judgment, [illegible] to make for competition between foreign articles produced by cheap labor and American manufactures produced by American labor at American wages to make free the hundreds of articles from which so little revenue is received as scarcely to pay the cost of collection to lighten the duties on or to render free raw materials not produced in our own country and whose importation would quicken our manufacturing interests give employment to our laborers and enable us to add to our exports or manufactures and to keep taxation as high as it will bear on the luxuries and vices of mankind.

To sum up—for I must draw more heavily on your space—the Republicans have only to show by their acts that theirs is the party of genuine practical reform that, founded as it was on the noblest reform of the age, and carrying one reform after another, it can be surely relied on as a living party of living earnest men, to face and settle wisely every living issue of the present and the future, as it has in the past and it will continue both to deserve and command success.

A Dead Delusion

The theory that human beings whose strength has been exhausted by pain and sickness can be restored by depleting medicines and water gruel, if not absolutely a dead delusion, is in the last agonies of dissolution. At length it is understood that the grit and the purged [illegible] debilitated frame though life may easily be purged out of it and that it is about as wise to [illegible] [illegible] from the weak in the expectation that they will rally without any help [illegible] [illegible] the bright color [illegible].

The immense and uniform success which has attended the use of that wonderful combination of a pure stimulant with the finest medicinal herbs known as [illegible] Stomach Bitters has largely assisted in dispelling the absurd chimera. [illegible] frantic attempts are made to revive [illegible] that their strength is departing, and that unless invigorated they must utterly break down [illegible] vain to hinder them [illegible] the place of genuine restoration. They may be imposed upon in this way once, but the imposition cannot be repeated. They desire to be refreshed, comforted braced up and decline to be gripped a second time.

Under the operation of the Bitters on the other hand all the processes necessary to physical restoration go on simultaneously. The system is stimulated and toned the bowels regulated, the appetite cultivated, the nerves composed and the condition of the blood improved at one and the same time by a single medicine. Common sense tells us that such a preparation must be invaluable.

JEANNETTE LABOULAYE.

[From Harper's Bazar.]

In one of the great rambling tenement-houses that huddle together in the heart of old New York Jeannette Laboulaye lived.

The court wherein the house stood was narrow and muddy, the house itself was old and rickety beyond belief, the stairs up which she daily climbed were worn and grimy with the tread of many feet, but when you had once reached their summit and opened the door of her room, you found there a neat little apartment—a paradise in comparison with those surrounding it. The window was curtained with snowy muslin, the floor covered with a bright carpet. There was a white bed, a polished stove, a trim cupboard, a garden, even, whose soil was confined in two wooden boxes which overflowed with geraniums, mignonette, and pansies.

And in this place Jeannette lived all alone. The tenants around her changed yearly, even weekly, but she had lived there since her earliest recollections, for there it was that her French father, a widower and a refugee, had found a dwelling in this foreign land. In this very room she had seen him die, old and gray before his time. Isolated by mutual prejudice and inclination from those around her, she still clung to the place which had been her father's refuge in time of trouble. She had idolized this father in his lifetime, and she treasured the lock of his dear silver hair and the painted miniature of his face as holy relics.

But this little French girl had a buoyant nature. After the first bitter burst of grief his memory became to her a consolation, a cherished tenderness, rather than an unavailing sorrow. By her window she sat and stitched, and warbled over her stitching, day after day. I have said that she lived there quite alone; but Jeannette had one companion in her solitude, a most important member of the household, a great gray cat, and on this animal she bestowed all her surplus milk of human kindness, as well as bountiful supplies of a less ethereal fluid. Let us hope that her affections were not utterly wasted.

But the dreaming girl had an enemy she little suspected. He lurked in Jarvis's Court—so the place was called. By day he lay beneath piles of refuse and down in the loathsome sewers; by night he crawled forth to look upon the faces of his sleeping victims. And one and another were stricken down, and Jeannette came out of her solitude, and was bitter in self-reproaches for having hitherto held herself so far aloof. She sat by children's bedsides, and tended and nursed them carefully, and bathed their poor neglected bodies—which was indeed an unaccustomed luxury. She even drew her little hoard of savings from the bank to provide them with necessities their poverty denied. And when the fiend was departing he laid his hand upon Jeannette; and the fever came and racked her body, and heat and thirst consumed her, and all the sweet fancies were changed to the ravings of delirium.

She might have died, alone and uncared for, but that one of the women she had befriended came to her assistance and did all that a penniless creature could do, even stealing moments from her own hard toil to watch beside her.

And Jeannette, coming to life, found her room stripped of its treasures, her Sunday dress, her English books—the relics of her school days, and these she had purchased with her own savings—all gone to pay the expenses of a tedious illness. Nay, not quite gone, perhaps, for a pawnbroker's ticket lay in their stead.

And there were worse discoveries to come—a pile of unfinished work on the table, and the rent collector at the door. This man was a callous wretch who had sold his soul to his employer years before, and could or would listen to no answer but hard cash, yet perforce consented to wait a week.

So the poor girl set to work at her uncompleted task. It was weary work. Her back ached, her fingers fell powerless again and again; but at last it was finished, and none too soon, for the milkman scowled darkly into the tiny pitcher of lacteal fluid delivered on trust, and the baker shook his head and [illegible] over the morning rolls as they disappeared into Jeannette's basket.

Yes, the last stitch was set, the snowy roses and buds and leaflets were all planted on the snowy cambric, and the little seamstress rose with a sigh of relief and donned her hat and shawl. The pretty gray dress she would have worn was gone, and she sighed as she looked in the glass at her thin worn face.

Could she have seen herself a few moments later, when the fresh air and dawning hope had brought the color to her cheek and the sparkle to her eye, she might have been re-[illegible]. How her foolish heart beat as she [illegible]!

And Edward Dana, her employer's son, stood in the doorway and smiled. There was [illegible] with him, a gentleman who had some connection with the establishment, and whom she had often seen before; a handsome man he was called; but Jeannette had eyes only for one.

Her errand over, and a new stock of work in hand, she had turned to leave; but Edward had followed her in and drew her aside behind a bale of linen goods, and there they stood and chatted.

It was very sweet to know that he had missed her, that he would have called upon her long before had he known her dwelling place; and the laughter rippled from her lips, and her eyes shone, and her very heart danced.

Then somebody called Edward away. A lady had stopped for him, and Jeannette saw the pink color flush his boyish face; and then he cried, "Good by, my darling!" and he stopped and pressed a kiss upon her lips, and then left her in a tremble of happiness.

"That is the lady Mr. Dana is to marry."

Those were the words that fell upon her ear and smote her like a cruel blow, for she raised her eyes to see him seated behind two dashing horses, with a lady by his side—a beautiful little blonde, a dainty delicate creature, whose violet eyes smiled into his, who touched his arm with her little gloved hand as she talked.

He had called her his darling, he had kissed her but a moment before, and now the dashing horses and the dainty lady needed all his care; he did not even seem to know that she was standing there.

There were farther comments on this bride and bridegroom so soon to be. It was all so sudden, so terrible, that Jeannette longed to cast herself upon the pavement and die then and there, but for very shame she hurried on.

When the white-faced moon peeped into her chamber window that night it looked upon a prostrate figure, pallid and motionless as any corpse a figure with long dark hair unbound and floating loosely all around it.

But when the morning came Jeannette sat at her daily task, her dress as neat as ever, her smoothed hair braided in the same multitudinous braids, and her sweet face only a trifle paler. No careless observer could have guessed the change that had come upon her, but her heart knew its own bitterness. She sought to lay her short bright dream to rest in her bosom, as she had her father's sacred memory, another living sweetness for the long, weary years that were to come. Surely Edward had meant no evil, though there had been words and glances that his promised bride might not have cared to see. He had been kind to her only because she was poor and friendless. But he had kissed her! When she thought of that she felt that she could learn to hate him.

Another week. Again Jeannette folded away the dainty embroidery, smiling as she did so at the folly of those who valued such things. "There is nothing worth living for in this world but love," she said.

If one had told her that life had another sorrow in store for her, Jeannette would have laughed him to scorn; but it was an added pang when the dapper clerk, laying down the wages she had earned, informed her that her services would be no longer required.

Ah! Edward was guilty indeed, if he feared to meet her face.

There were no tears in her eyes. A hard armor seemed to have closed around her heart. All the busy outer world seemed as far away as though she had walked away into some craggy wilderness. But a touch recalled her senses.

The tall man who had stood and talked of Edward only a week before, who had uttered the never-to-be-forgotten words which had rung in her ears, it seemed for weary centuries, was close beside her. He questioned her. He was certainly very kind. She blamed herself for the vague dislike she had felt for him; but it is hard to love one's executioner, be he ever so blameless of any evil event.

He was only a moneyed partner, the gentleman said, and did not like to interfere in any business arrangement, but would procure her employment elsewhere. And then it seemed like a strange dream—he had taken her hand, he was telling her of a house and carriage and dainty living and fine apparel that should be hers if she would have them at his hands; and Jeannette had lifted her honest eyes to his, and told him the simple truth, that she did not love him as a wife should love, and he had left her with a scowl upon his face.

Why was it that the hot blood mounted to her cheek? Why this desperate pang of helpless wrath and agony?

Surely he had done her the greatest honor a man could do to any woman. Had he not spoken of a home that they should share together? But he had uttered no word of love, of hers or of his. Did he think a woman's heart was bought with wealth and luxury and silk attire? Ah! Jeannette's true woman's instinct had taught her what her girlish innocence could not guess.

A cool breeze blew across her heated face. She raised her eyes to find that her aimless feet had led her far astray. She was standing at the entrance of a great lumber yard built on the river bank. There was no one near but a few ragged urchins playing among the piles of timber and she wandered farther in and stood beside the water. Across the Hudson the great red sun was sinking over the black hills; and as she watched the deepening colors of the sky and water, and the waves lapping the pile of timbers at her feet, strange new thoughts came in her mind. Would any one be the worse, if she were to wait there till the gray night had settled down upon the scene, and then slip into the cold, cold water and be at rest? Would God be so very angry with her? She was so very lonely and desolate.

Then she fell to thinking how the little room would look without her, how the spiders would creep in and hang their curtains under the snowy ones at the window, how the dust would sift in and lie thick upon all things, and then how strange hands would break open the door, and handle her dear father's miniature and the lock of his silver hair. "But what will it matter," she said, "when I am gone?"

What a little thing will turn the current of one's thoughts! A gaunt gray cat came down the pile of wood behind her, and sidled down beside Jeannette and rubbed against her dress with a pitiful cry: and as the girl stooped to stroke it, a thought of her little pet at home smote her conscience.

"Poor little Minnie!" she said. "I have locked her in with my own hands. She would die there alone—perhaps go mad! What a selfish, heartless girl I am!" And she turned her back to the river and her temptation forever.

"This comes of living such a selfish, lonely life. Father mine!" she cried, "if you had lived, it would never have come to this."

And she planned her life anew, leaving love and home affections out of the scheme.

Her way lay through a park, and as she crossed its stones a figure rose to meet her.

Edward! Why had he come just now when she was trying so hard to be good? He moved toward her hastily.

"Jeannette," he said, "I meant to have seen you to-day, but I was out of town. The train was late. It is growing dark, but you will let me see you home? I have something to tell you first."

And he stopped in the twilight to look into her face. How glad she was that the tears she had shed beside the river were dry! There was even a smile upon her lips. She would have resisted when he led her to a rustic bench near by.

"Yet why not have all over between us once and forever?" she asked herself. "I am strong now. Something to tell me, Edward? Stop, let me tell you. You are going to be married."

"Not so fast!" cried Edward, growing grave. "Every thing is ready but the bride's consent."

"You will have that too."

And Jeannette laughed a ringing laugh. It was well done, but it sounded hollow in her own ears.

"Let me tell you what she is like," she went on. "She has blue eyes—"

"Black as sloes," broke in Edward.

"Golden hair—"

"Darling," he cried, "there is only one woman in the world for me, and her hair is black as midnight, and she has the loveliest eyes and the sweetest smile and the prettiest brown skin and the cunningest ways of any little darling that ever lived."

And then and there he clasped her to his heart: but she held him from her, and a hundred black suspicions came thronging in upon her. It was hard to think any wrong of him, but she had known so much wickedness. Poor Jeannette! Alas calmly as she could she told him the words that had given her such pain.

"That was a shabby trick!" said Edward, starting to his feet. But he only laughed. He never knew for many a long day after that the trick had been played upon Jeannette, and was no boyish stratagem to bring laugh upon himself. "Yes, darling," he ended; "that lady is my brother's wife. Let us follow their example;" and in the shadow of the leafy trees they sealed the contract with a kiss.

Jeannette is now the honored mistress of a happy home. For all her happiness, she could not part from her little home without a sigh. "But living love is better than all beads," she said.

The pictured face of the sweet hearted Frenchman looks down upon his daughter's fireside, and Minnie, the little animal which was once Jeannette's only tie to the living world, though long past its graceful kittenhood, and even its mouse catching prime, has still a corner there.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.--1860--X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

Probably few articles have ever had so extensive a Sale, while none have been more universally beneficial than the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT. Children, Adults, Horses and Domestic Animals, are always liable to accident, and it is safe to say, that no family can pass a single season without some kind of an emollient being necessary. It becomes a matter of importance then to secure the best.

Over three hundred livery stables in the city of New York alone are using the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, in all of which it gives unusual satisfaction.

CAUTION.—The genuine is wrapped in a fine Steel Plate engraving with "G. W. Westbrook, Chemist," and "Trade Mark, MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT," engraved across the face of each wrapper. The whole bears the proprietor's private United States Revenue Stamp, and not a common stamp, as used by druggists.

BANKRUPT NOTICES.

IN U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DISTRICT OF OREGON—Notice in Bankruptcy. In the matter of John Phelan and Daniel O'Regan, bankrupts. Notice is hereby given that petitions have been filed in said Court by said John Phelan and Daniel O'Regan, respectively, duly declared bankrupts under the Act of Congress of March 2, 1867, for a discharge and certificate thereof, from all their debts and liabilities and other claims provable under said Act, and that the 1st day of June, 1872, at 1 o'clock P. M., is assigned for the hearing of the same before George R. Durham, Esq., Register in Bankruptcy at his office in Portland, in said District, when and where any person may attend and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitions should not be granted.

May 14, 1872. R. WILSON,

RAILROAD LANDS.

OFFICE OF LAND DEPARTMENT,
Oregon and California R. R. Co. and European and Oregon Land Co.,

PORTLAND, OREGON, August 1, 1871.

THE COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO EXTEND the pre-emption privilege of purchasing Railroad Lands in advance of the same being placed in market to all parties desirous of securing them in the following terms.

The applicant filing in this office a claim in the form prescribed, to-wit:

Pre-emption Date, No. ——

To the Land Agent of the European and Oregon Land Company:

Sir: You are hereby notified that I have settled upon and improved (description of land) in the county of ——, State of Oregon, containing —— acres, and that I claim a pre-emption right to purchase said lands at the Company's valuation in accordance with the following resolution of the Directors of said Company adopted on the twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1871, to the terms of which I hereby fully assent:

"Resolved, That the parties settling upon and improving any of the lands of the European and Oregon Land Company, before the same are opened for market, shall be entitled to the pre-emption privilege of purchase on the same terms as the Company would sell the land for without improvement, and shall be subject to the same conditions of payment, as all other lands belonging to the Company, when brought into market: provided, such settlers shall file in the Land Office of said Company, written application, giving notice of such settlement, and shall accept the privilege upon the condition that when the price of the land shall be fixed, notice thereof shall be sent by the Company's Land Agent, through the Postoffice, or otherwise, as may be convenient, to the residence of the party claiming the pre-emption privilege, and if the land is not purchased by the said party within sixty days from the date of such notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person."

(Name of applicant.)

(Postoffice address.)

When the application is received, a certificate, signed by the Agent, obligating the Company to the terms, will be sent to the claimant in the following form:

PRE-EMPTION CERTIFICATE, NO. ——.

This is to certify that —— of —— county, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office a pre-emption claim to (description of premises), and is hereby entitled to the first privilege of purchasing said land at the Company's valuation, (which is to be made without reference to improvements) when the same shall be placed in market, in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26, A. D. 1871.

When the price of the abovedescribed land is fixed, notice thereof will be sent to the party to whom this Certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party as the holder hereof within sixty days from the date of said notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person.

(Signed) ——
Land Agent of the E. & O. Land Co.

The lands will be appraised by a competent, disinterested party under oath, at their actual present value—no fancy or prospective price on the basis of similar lands in the vicinity, and when appraisement is made they will be sold in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to one person, payable in five equal annual installments, with interest from date of contract, at ten per cent. per annum, principal and interest payable in United States Legal Tender Notes. Warranty deeds given after United States Patent issues, upon payment in full.

Blank forms of application furnished upon request.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES, NEW [illegible]

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of [illegible] has returned from visiting the principal [illegible] Europe, and has resumed practice at his [illegible] Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San [illegible] where his old patients and those requiring [illegible] may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor [illegible] ing out new remedies, and has returned with facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a sad existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from disease absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] sands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible, life-destroying [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, [illegible] mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many [illegible] doctors who infest all cities, publishing their ability of curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make diligent inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of [illegible] solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the following morbid symptoms, unless combatted by [illegible] measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots [illegible] eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] approaching strangers, a dislike to form new [illegible] disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] to him that he was cured of this complaint [illegible] the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are [illegible] under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, [illegible] medicines promptly forwarded, free from [illegible] curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in a letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and have no [illegible] lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in treating cases, out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultation FREE.
